HUMAN FREEDOM INDEX ANALYSIS

by Sahana Ashok

ABSTRACT

A central purpose of The Human Freedom Index is to paint a broad but reasonably accurate picture of the extent of overall freedom in the world. A larger purpose is to more carefully explore what we mean by freedom and to better understand its relationship to any number of other social and economic phenomena.

DESCRIPTION

The Human Freedom Index is a report that attempts to summarize the idea of "freedom" through a bunch of different variables for many countries around the globe. It serves as a rough objective measure for the relationships between the different types of freedom - whether it's political, religious, economical or personal freedom - and other social and economic circumstances. The Human Freedom Index is an annually co-published report by the Cato Institute, the Fraser Institute, and the Liberales Institut at the Friedrich Naumann Foundation for Freedom.

It measures economic freedoms such as the freedom to trade or to use sound money, and it captures the degree to which people are free to enjoy the major freedoms often referred to as civil liberties—freedom of speech, religion, association, and assembly— in the countries in the survey. In addition, it includes indicators on rule of law, crime and violence, freedom of movement, and legal discrimination against same-sex relationships. We also include nine variables pertaining to women-specific freedoms that are found in various categories of the index.

AIM

To analyze the dataset and obtain insights, by performing the following:

1. Data Preprocessing

Handle missing data.
Obtain overview on data.
Obtain target statistics.

2. Exploratory Data Analysis

Analyze target attribute trends.
Perform attribute analysis.
Obtain correlation among attributes.

3. Target Prediction

Predict ef_score and pf_score indicidually. Predict hf_score as a whole.

DATASET FORMAT

It is used as a data frame with 1782 observations on the following 112 whose variables contains information from Human Freedom Index reports from 2008-2018.
